Warrant Dates Set

The warrant for the October town meeting will open on Aug. 19 and close at 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 23.

These dates were approved by the selectmen Monday night at which time the board also indicated they would receive requests from town boards for insertion of articles in the warrant up to the July 22 meeting. The selectmen have a policy which allows their inserting articles at the request of official town boards, rather than having to obtain signatures on petitions.

FinCom Approves Transfers

The Andover Finance Committee expressed concern at its meeting Tuesday night over potential legal costs as a result of actions within the school department.

Chairman John Doherty and his financial review group, approved several transfers from the reserve fund and had words of praise for Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and department heads for keeping within budgetary allotments during the town's 18-month budgetary period.

The concern over legal costs in the school department stemmed from recent actions in requesting special counsel for a court case pending against four members of the school committee. The action was brought by Committeeman William L. Lane who is paying for his representation on his own. The remaining school board members have sought other than Town Counsel Alfred L. Daniels to represent them.

There are additional court cases pending concerning recent school committee actions.

The transfers approved included $500 to provide adequate fencing for the fireworks display at the playstead next

Old Fashioned Fourth Planned For Thursday

Andover will be having a good old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration next week, with activities scheduled for the playstead Thursday afternoon and evening.

Andover officials this week indicated concern over the proposed development of the West Andover Industrial park, and began a holding operation on the financing of the construction of the trunk sewer line. The action followed word from Hewlett-Packard company, the park's prime tenant, and for whom the town approved the $2.5 million sewer line in March of 1973, that ground would not be broken in July of this year as promised. Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen who has been in contact with officials of Hewlett-Packard, told the TOWNSMAN "there is indication there is going to be a postponement of groundbreaking for an indeterminable period."

The ground breaking was scheduled to be in July, but word is that the money market is such that the medical electronics plant officials feel that moving the earth now would be uneconomical.

But, the earth moving operations is part of a commitment to the town that Hewlett-Packard will in fact build in West Andover in the property owned by Arkwright/Boston insurance.

That is the so-called "trigger" which will set in motion the machinery for construction of the West Andover trunk sewer line.

The selectmen are reluctant to give the green light to any further expenditure of funds for the sewer line construction until that "trigger" is pulled by H-P.

Meanwhile there is concern over the rising construction costs and the money available for the town's commitment to West Andover.

Based on the guideline of cost increases averaging ten per cent per month, it is conceivable that the $2.5 million available will not meet the project cost.

This would necessitate another town meeting to provide additional funds and the feeling is that approval would be difficult to obtain.

Monday night, the selectmen, discussing the costs incurred to date and the need to borrow funds for continued engineering work on the sewer line, gave indication of concern for the project, when they asked Town Manager J. Maynard Austin to negotiate bonds for only the $180,000 need to meet existing expenditures.

Austin informed the board that had the project gone off as scheduled this spring, there

Allen and Sharpe served as auctioneers and received plaques in appreciation of their services for the successful auction from the board Monday night.

Department Head Salaries Get Test Score Guidelines

Two department heads were given less than their recommended salary increases by the School Committee Tuesday night - and three received more - after committeeman John Wragg insisted that college board scores should be one of the criteria on which a department head's salary is judged.

He moved that Hartley Peakes, social studies head at the high school, receive $1100 instead of the $1300 hike the administration had recommended, and that Louis Eiserman, his counterpart at East Jr. High receive $1000 instead of $1200.

Wragg said history scores were at the bottom of all areas tested on college boards.

On the other hand, he said, foreign language scores were at the top, and he recommended $1000 instead of $800 for Mrs. Suzanne Coates, language department head at East; $1000 instead of $700 for Peter Prince, foreign language head at the high school; and $1400 instead of $1300 for G. Arthur Danforth, science head at the high school.

Personnel dominated the four-hour session and the crowd packed into the Bancroft cafeteria gave Gerald Silverman, assistant high school principal, a standing ovation after the board accepted his resignation. Silverman will be principal of the junior-senior high in Georgetown.

In still other action, a non-tenured math teacher at East Jr. High, Mrs. Susan McLellan, was refused a maternity leave of absence, in an effort by Committeeman George Olesen to set a policy for the future.

The Wragg salary motion passed 3-2, despite Com-

118 Apply For Post

The school department has received 118 applications for the assistant superintendent post, according to John G. Wragg and John F. Lyons who have been reviewing the applications to date.

Through last week there were 90 applications, with the additional ones being received on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The deadline for applications is July 1.

Both Committeemen Wragg and Lyons report that the qualifications of the applicants received to date are "very good," and that salary requirement was in the $20,000 to $25,000 range.

The committee will interview the candidates personally prior to appointment, Wragg said.

The target date for appointment of the assistant is Aug. 15.

Project HELP's purpose is to help prepare the Andover-Lawrence community for the phasing out of Danvers State Hospital -- this means the return of most Lawrence-area mental patients into their own communities, says Mrs. James O'Shea, president of Project HELP's board of directors.

Human resources are needed in each community - Andover, North Andover and Lawrence, the TOWNSMAN learned in an interview with Mrs. O'Shea, 84 High Plain Road, and Robert Butler, 5 Gardner Ave., of Project HELP's board. Behind the state's winding down of many of its mental health department hospital facilities, they say, are new treatment methods that enable many patients to function outside of a hospital, a philosophy that many patients recover better in a normal community than through prolonged hospital care, and, finally, fund cutbacks that make it simply necessary to wind down the state hospital facilities.

Project HELP provides both funds and human resources to help patients and ex-patients in this transition. According to Mrs. O'Shea, it is the ally in the community of the Lawrence Unit at Danvers State Mental Hospital, and of the new Day Treatment Center for Adults at 232 Essex St. in Lawrence. The Day Treatment Center is set up to provide assistance and support for Lawrence-area ex-patients and potential patients. Project HELP provided funds to buy the office equipment at the new Day Treatment Center, and seeks volunteers for transportation of ex-patients to the Center for treatment.

Patients still remaining at Danvers now need programs and activities desperately, Mrs. O'Shea said. Because of funding cutbacks, the patients must rely almost entirely on volunteers from their home communities for art therapy, sewing and cooking clubs, community orientation and other activities that stimulate patients and bring them into contact with the outside world. Since patients are grouped in units according to their home community, this means that Lawrence-area patients at Danvers only receive such programs as the volunteers from Andover-Lawrence communities provide. "Extra budgetary programs by the state are out of the question," Mrs. O'Shea said. "Funds are so tight that I know of social workers who are spending their own money to provide some patient activities.

President O'Shea calls Project HELP the funnel through which Andover, North Andover and Lawrence individuals or clubs can provide regular or occasional volunteer help to Danvers patients. Needed now are garden projects, retired men to initiate woodworking activities, a ceramics project, and other programs. Special event parties organized at the hospital are especially appreciated, and there is always a need for community orientation -- trips or errands into the community with the patients, however short the time spent.

Fundraising is an important function of Project HELP. Mrs. O'Shea calls the annual September Dance for Danvers an occasion when everyone can contribute to an especially worthy cause by enjoying themselves. This year's dance is planned for Sept. 27. Project HELP officers hope that both individuals and organizations in the Andovers will reserve tables and try to fill them, to raise enough money to fund the many needs Project HELP hopes to meet. This past year, funds from the dance went into materials for various patient activities at Danvers and community orientation; it also bought equipment for the Day Treatment Center for Adults in Lawrence, and gave financial backing to the Point After Club; this is an informal social club for ex-mental patients which meets weekly at the United Fund Building, for recreation and mutual support.

There is much to do for patients and expatients, but Project HELP has another important job, according to Mr. Butler and Mrs. O'Shea. As the mental patients' and the state mental health department, as ally in the community, Project HELP will attempt to help educate the community to the changes in mental health care; The aim here is to create human resources of help and understanding to ease mental patients' re-entry into the Andover, North Andover and Lawrence communities.

Persons interested in helping any phase of Project HELP's work are invited to contact Mrs. O'Shea, Mr. Butler, or any of the following officers of Project HELP: Vice president, Mrs. Rudolph Muto, 24 William St., Andover; second vice president, Mrs. Jerold Winer, 34 Alden Road, Andover; treasurer, the Rev. Alexander Twombly, 60 Highwood Way Road, North Andover; secretary, Mrs. Douglas V. Allen, 37 Bradstreet Road, North Andover.

ELECT GERALD M. COHEN REPRESENTATIVE

5 William St., Andover Tel. 475-7763

Friday morning June 21

I attended a meeting called by Speaker of The House of Representatives David Bartley who presented House Bill 6350 "OPEN BUDGET BILL" which proposes a total opening of the State budgetary process from inception through enactment. It is simply all encompassing and is designed to give the taxpayer a clear and open view of how state government is planning to spend his tax dollars. This bill will mean better budgeting on a more cost efficient basis.

I am seeking the Representative Seat in Andover primarily to foster a sense of sound business management principles in state government. I wholeheartedly support the "OPEN BUDGET BILL"

This legislation provides for public scrutiny from the initial formulation of the budget for each Secretary to the enactment of the final budget version by the Legislature.

If you are as concerned about the quality of the management of State Government as I am concerned, you will contact your present Representative and State Senator and urge them to support this bill now.

We can have this public scrutiny take effect in September if you act now. If you need more information on how this bill will work, I will forward to you a flow chart of the highlights of House Bill 6350. All you have to do is ask.

I want to work for you sincerely,

IMS Report To Be Examined

System-wide coordination, more communication with parents, more teacher-directed work and alternative materials, are among the recommendations of long-awaited IMS Subcommittee report which was released at the school committee's meeting Tuesday night.

Complete digestion of the lengthy report on the Individualized Math System, however, was postponed because the meeting was heading toward midnight and because copies of the report were only in the hands of school committee and subcommittee members.

The report meanwhile, will be made available to persons who request them from the superintendent's office, and the subcommittee's chairman, Committeeman John Lyons, has suggested that a panel presentation be made July 16.

The committee, which only got through only half of its agenda Tuesday, decided it couldn't afford the luxury of a leisurely summer schedule, and will also meet next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., at West Elementary.

The IMS report, however, already prompted Committeeman John Wragg to move that the administration seek presentations over the summer from vendors of other math systems.

While the action was not directly recommended by the subcommittee, a summary statement noted that the report

"should not preclude the School Committee and Administration from reviewing other math systems now and in the future."

The report did refer, in several instances, to a need for supplemental materials. It also appeared to recommend either a systemwide math coordinator, or math resource teachers in the individual schools.

Lyons emphasized that the goal of the 23-man subcommittee had been to determine problems that exist with IMS and seek out possible solutions.

However, a minority statement, signed by four committee members, was presented Tuesday night by Mrs. Nancy Mulvey, to note positive aspects of the program.

"We feel it is rather important to get across to the townspeople a sense of how IMS has changed, and the fact that some of us on the committee perceive definite strengths to the program that were not discussed at any length nor included in the report," it read.

It said that "many teachers feel that they are teaching math now better than they ever have under any other program or curriculum; that IMS does enable each student, no matter how difficult math is for him, to achieve some degree of success working at his own level and pace; and that students do seem to enjoy math."

IMS is no longer solely pre and post tests and yellow skill sheets, with little drill and students working alone on laminated sheets with no teacher-directed instruction, the "minority statement" said.

Alternative materials are being used, teacher-instructed classes are in process, drill sessions are held, it said.

Raises

Committeeman William L. Lane's contention that it was unfair to subject teachers to an evaluation process that's not known to them far enough in advance to gear their curricula accordingly. Chairman Frank Griggs added his "no" vote to Lane's and asked that it be recorded.

Wragg prefaced his motion by saying that he did not feel college board results measure the full performance of department heads, but that he didn't feel the scores had been given sufficient weight in the administration's recommendations.

He said that social studies test results were not up to the best expectations and that "one of the key things of education is to get kids into college with the best background they can have."

History was at the bottom of the areas which were tested, he said, while languages were at the top.

East Jr. High Principal Richard McGrail questioned the board's using college board scores as a basis for evaluation, when "65 percent" of the salaries acted on were for junior high personnel.

Wragg, however, said the scores represented "a continuum" throughout the system.

"I don't agree with the college board people" was his answer to a youth in the audience who asked why he was using the board scores as a criteria "when the College Board people say they shouldn't be used to evaluate a system."

Dr. Richard Katz said it seemed to him that by announcing that increases are made on the basis of college board scores, the committee was "adventently or inadvertently making a policy that one of the aims of our system is to get higher college board scores."

"If I were a department head," he said, "I would make that my goal."

He said that might lead a department head to be reluctant to give his teachers any latitude, and in turn squelch innovation.

Lane said that it also was asking teachers to gear themselves to the high achievers and less specifically to the low and middle achievers.

Joseph Reilly asked is it customary to so disregard administrative recommendations and if the school committee had measured the detriment the action would have on morale of administrators, and on those subjected to "subjective and last minute" evaluation procedures.

Wragg answered that the school committee would not "rubber stamp" administration requests, but that it had, in fact, gone along with the majority of the salary recommendations.

Increases approved for high school department heads were Edwin Hawkes, industrial arts, $600; James Murphy, math, $1400; Stephen Richardson, business education, $1100.

At East Jr. High: Adelaide Coleman, English, $1400; Robert Hatem, science, $1400; Donald Skelton, math, $1400. At West Jr. High: Ansi DeCesare, English, $1400; Ruth Nelson, math, $1400; Harry Jamkochian, science, $1400; W. Douglas Halsted, foreign language, $900 and Bruce Dewire, social studies, $1000.

Ruth Wescott, head of nurses and dental hygienists, received $600, while unit coordinators at West School, and reading specialists and special education teachers throughout the system received recommended raises varying from $500 to $900.

Lane had been the only committeeman in favor of granting tenure to Mrs. McLellan. He said it was not a question of tenure or not, but "whether you want her back." "You should look at the merits of each individual case," he said.

While Town Counsel Alfred Daniels had ruled that any member of the Andover Education Association, tenured or non-tenured, could be granted a leave of absence, Olesen said he was against such action for non-tenured teachers and suggested a policy should be established "so the issue wouldn't become a personal one" in the future.

Griggs then implied that the ultimate question wouldn't be one of tenure, but of discrimination.

In other personnel action, the committee accepted resignations of Miss Nancy Katz, instructional aide at Bancroft; Mrs. Jessica McGinty, instructional aide at Shawshen, and Mrs. Dorothy O'Meara, clerical aide at Bancroft; and approved a leave of absence for Mrs. Sheila Kennedy, intermediate level teacher at South.

Elected to positions were Steven Gesing, Grade 6 at West Elementary; Mrs. Charity Hotham, English at West Jr. High; Robert Kessler, Grade 4 at West Elementary; Mrs. Rita Petrella, science at East Jr. High; Mrs. Virginia Rossini, math at West Jr. High; William Spencer, Loft 5 at Bancroft and Miss Sarah Wolfe, art at Bancroft.

Lee LaFord and Mrs. Delores Pelc, were also appointed instructional aides at Bancroft.

Mrs. Coates Critical Of Administrative Support

A limit of 25 per foreign language class, elimination of beginning, rather than advanced courses, a secondary role in curriculum and methods for administrators, and an end to "discrimination against foreign language department heads," were among the recommendations made to the school committee Tuesday night by Mrs. Suzanne Coates, department head at East Jr. High.

Her charges of lack of administrative support, "bypassing" of department heads by principals, and undermining of department heads by "politically minded" teachers, led Committeeman William Lane to call "much of the report inappropriate." He also said he felt such charges would lessen her effectiveness as a department head.

Among the problems Mrs. Coates cited was overcrowding at West Jr. High, where she reports there are five teachers for 619 pupils, and up to 35 pupils in a class. She said there are seven and four-fifths teachers at the high school for 657 foreign language pupils, and five and one-fifth at East Jr. High for 486 pupils.

She said other weaknesses included deletion of an elementary language program, reduction of seventh and eighth grade classes from five to four per week to make room for "alternatives", detrimental administrative decisions at both junior highs, lack of resource centers, students being taken out of class too much for field trips and the like, and heterogeneous grouping, particularly at West Jr. High.

She said that the principal at East Jr. High had overruled her to recommend a teacher for tenure that she had not recommended.

At the high school, she said, there was "lack of support of the department head" by the principal and undermining of the department head by the teachers with political motivations.

She made a case for advanced placement for French and Spanish students, while eliminating beginning classes if necessary. She said some of the beginning classrooms were "cluttered" with youths who were not capable of handling foreign language, and said some youths had taken French I in eighth, ninth, 10th and 11th grades - at a cost of $234 per year to the system.

She also recommended that the system offer German. This year there were 875 youngsters in French, 787 in Spanish, 80 in Latin and 20 in Russian.

Mrs. Riddiford Appointed To Commission

Lincoln
Spelling
Winners

The Lincoln Spelling contest, a tradition in the Town of Andover, was held at the Henry C. Sanborn School on Monday, June 17th.

The history of this contest is deeply intertwined with the history of the town and was, at one time, the highlight of the social season. It brought together, in the Town Hall, the spelling champions of grades 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and one representative from the high school who, before large audiences, engaged in a spell down to arrive at a winner.
While we no longer make the contest a town-wide meeting we do still carry on a tradition started many years ago by Varnham and Alfred Lincoln.

This years champion spellers were: Grade 6 - First place, Lisa Sternlieb; Second place, Sandy Fitzpatrick.

Grade 5 - First place, Janine
Sternlieb; Second place, Scott
Elliott.

Summer Program To Open

How would you like to make a skateboard, a go-kart, or build a home workshop?

Or, how would you like to star in a summer theater production, learn how to play chess or even try your talents at international cooking?

These are just some of the opportunities for personal development being offered to students in the Greater Lawrence area through Summerthing '74 which begins today, Thursday, in Methuen.

The summer program sponsored by the Lowell State College Graduate School includes such courses as Mr. Fixit, Checkmate (chess), Methuen Borgasmord (cooking), Morning Matinee (drama), Life Under a Microscope (science), Personal Typing, The Measure of Things (mathematics), and physical education.

Mr. Fixit will cover such subject areas as carpentry, heating, painting, wall papering, plumbing, masonry, roofing, landscaping, home shop construction and others depending upon the interest areas of the participating students.

Students participating in Morning Matinee will design sets, apply make-up, create costumes, act in every play produced and attend local summer theater matinees.

In Checkmate, students will explore basic chess strategies as they learn the game from the organizer of a local chess club and in The Measure of Things, students will explore the use of the computer as an aid to applied mathematics.

Late registration for some of the courses, including Mr. Fixit, is presently being held at the Methuen Junior High School.

Twomey, Lawler On All-Stars

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team managed one victory in three games last week, and with a ruling pending on its protest against Tower Hill the club currently carries a 6-3 overall record.

North Andover handed the locals a 4-1 defeat, and then first-place Methuen tacked on a 9-3 loss.

Andover bounced back on Monday night, however, regaining its solid batting attack with 16 hits enroute to an 18-8 triumph over Prospect Hill.

All-Stars

Andover had a pair of unanimous selections to the annual Greater Lawrence All-Star team, as pitcher - outfielder Brian Twomey and first baseman Thom Lawler were chosen for the select 15-player squad.

Tom Coffey, a 14-year-old pitcher - outfielder, was chosen as the first alternate. He will be added to the starting team should any other performer be unable to play because of injury, illness or absence.

The G-L All-Stars, who have won several District and Area titles recently and who went to the State Tournament finals two years ago, open play at Mark Devlin Field in Lawrence on Friday night, July 5.

That game will already be by the District semifinals, and the opposition will be provided by the winner of the Burlington - Woburn quarterfinal.

Andover Manager Rick Harrison was also selected as one of the team's two coaches. The club is being managed by North Andover's Jerry Minihan.

Licciardi Rules

North Andover 14-year-old righthander Jim Licciardi scattered seven Andover hits, and hung tough with men on base, during the 4-1 NA victory. He walked three and whiffed seven.

Andover righty Mark LaLonde hurled well in defeat, allowing seven hits and fanning seven while going the distance.

North Andover, which hasn't lost to Andover at Grogan's Field in several years, grabbed a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first after consecutive singles by Mike Rullo, Don Schiepers and Mike Heafey.

The winners made it 3-0 in the third stanza. Schiepers led with a walk and stole second. Heafey followed with a line shot to rightfield that skipped past for an RBI triple, and when the relay throw went askew it was the cue for the big guy to rumble home.

Twomey Delivers

Andover broke Licciardi's shutout in the fifth. Thom Lawlor walked, stole second, took third on Dan Noone's single and scored when LaLonde balked.

Andover threatened in the first and sixth frames without scoring.

Thom Lawler opened the game with a single to rightfield. Dave Farrell followed with a bunt single, and with two outs Greg Nicastro walked to load the bases. However, the next batter whiffed to end it.

Bob Zwicker led the sixth with a sharp pinch-hit single. Gary Needham walked and John Lyons moved them up with a sacrifice bunt.

However, Lawler popped out to third and Farrell skied to the catcher to squash the final problem.

Lawler lashed a pair of hits for the locals, while solo singles were added by Farrell, Twomey, Zwicker, Tom Coffey and Gary Needham.

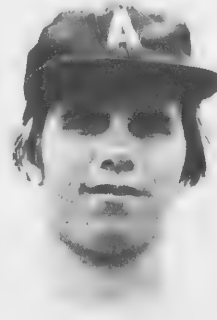

Lawler also starred defensively with a fine over-the-shoulder running catch of a hump-back liner by Mike Lorenza.

Methuen Keeps First
Methuen (8-1) retained its hold on first place and handed Andover its first loss at home, 9-3. The visitors jumped to a quick

THOM LAWLER

3-0 edge against Brian Twomey (2-1) in the first, combining a walk, fielder's choice, hit batsman and three errors into three runs without benefit of a hit.

Andover scrambled back into a 3-3 tie in the second. The locals got two runs in the first inning on an infield error, three walks and Tom Coffey's single. Thom Lawler hammered a double and Brian Twomey rescued him with a single to tie it one inning later.

Methuen chased Twomey and went ahead for good by netting four runs in the fourth. A pair of walks, a bases-loaded single by Casey Crompton on a 3-2 pitch and a two-run single by John Solomon made it 7-3.

The victors closed things out with two runs in the seventh, nicking Tom Coffey who had relieved and blanked Methuen for two innings. The big hit here was a solid double by 13-year-old Jim Cassidy.

On The Ropes

Andover had Methuen complete-game winner Chuck Kolofos on the ropes several times, but was unable to apply the KO punch.

In the fourth Dave Farrell and John Lyons led with singles. Dan Grams sacrificed them along, and Lawler walked to populate the sacks.

Brian Twomey followed with a shot to the shortstop, who made the tough play and closed out the inning with no scoring.

In the fifth Tom Coffey singled for his second hit, but he was nailed trying to score when Mark LaLonde belted a long double to right-centerfield.

Kolofos became stronger at the end, retiring the last eight batters in succession following LaLonde's two-bagger.

Defensive standouts for Andover were Thom Lawler at first base again, making two tough catches of foul pop-ups, and second baseman Danny Grams who handled eight chances flawlessly.

Lawler also came within scant inches of hitting the first homerun over the rightfield fence in many years. Lawler's clout cleared the fence all right, but was waved just foul by umpire Larry Klimas.

Back In The Groove

Andover regained its winning ways by routing Prospect Hill. The locals sped to a 17-0 lead after three innings and coasted home.

Tom Coffey hurled all but two-thirds of the fifth inning, at which time he was relieved briefly by Dave Farrell.

Prospect Hill struck for all of its eight runs in the first stanza, taking advantage of Coffey's sudden wildness and two key hits to explode.

Tom was practically untouchable in the other six innings, however, allowing only two singles and three baserunners.

He finished the game with a five-hitter, walking five and fanning 12.

Andover sent 10 men to the plate in the first inning and six of them scored. Thom Lawler, who went 4-for-6 in the game, led with a long double.

The next two batters went out.

but Gary Needham's soft fly ball was misplayed for a two-base error and the first run. Bob Zwicker followed with a single, Needham stopping at third, and 13-year-old Danny Grams lashed a two-run double down the left-field line.

Consecutive sharp singles by Jeff Hubbell, John Lyons and Dan Hayes chased home three more runs for a 6-0 spread.

There were 12 batters for Andover in the second inning, which saw seven additional runs clatter across the plate to make it 13-0.

Successive singles by Dave Farrell, Tom Coffey, Gary Needham and Bob Zwicker accounted for three runs. Danny Grams walked, Jeff Hubbell drilled a run-scoring single and John Lyons clubbed a two-run triple.

When looking for another home, don't discount the advantages of the older houses. Although you may not favor the dated exteriors, remember that the biggest luxury today is space built when the dollar was a dollar. Multiple fireplaces, the sun room, a real foyer, and a craftsman's stairway are out of the budget today when speed and economy set the pace. A little imagination and decoration on the interior gives you the old dollars worth, with space to breathe in.

Rain Washes Out Showdown

By Rick Harrison

The emergence of the Red Sox in the American League, the first and only loss of the season for the amazin' Mets, and the 11th hour rush to second place by the National League Giants highlighted the final days of regular-season play in the Andover Little League.

The Red Sox, with a little help from their friends, the White Sox and Indians, slipped into first place in the hectic two-way AL race.

While the Yankees, who had led virtually all season, lost their final two games to the Indians and White Sox (5-4), the Red Sox kept winning and stretched their victory streak through four games.

At presstime, the Yankees had completed their campaign with an 11-4 record. The Red Sox were 11-3 with only the completion of a suspended game against the White Sox to go.

That game stands 5-5 entering the seventh inning. If the Red Sox pull it out, they clinch the title and meet the Mets for the Town Championship. If the White Sox should win, and they've also been red-hot, it would force a one-game title playoff between the Yanks and Sox.

The two Sox clubs were rained out Tuesday night, but will play their crucial tilt when Mother Nature relents.

The Mets, meanwhile, saw their perfect season dissolve into a 14-1 final after the Pirates posted a 4-2 victory last Thursday night.

The Pirates also spoiled the Braves run for second place, beating them 10-1 which enabled the fast-finishing Giants to slip into the familiar runner-up spot.

The post-season playoffs open this weekend, with best-of-three series set for the first and second place teams.

The Mets and Giants are geared for action, and once the suspended AL game is played everyone will know just who is playing whom.

Pirates 4, Mets 2

Paul Bracken fired a masterful three-hitter and fanned 11, and the Pirates rallied for three runs in the top of the fifth inning to pin a 4-2 defeat on the previously unbeaten Mets.

The result kept the Pirates' recent reputation of "spoilers" intact, as they put the lone blemish on the amazin' Mets record.

Dave Morton belted a two-run double in the fifth to win the game, while Paul Bracken slammed a two-bagger and singles were added by Jim DiTroia and Mike Travis of the Pirates.

Losing pitcher Charlie Wiseman worked the first five innings for the Mets. Sean Burt mopped up, and between them the pair whiffed six.

himself with a double, and the defensive star of the game was Jim DiTroia of the Pirates in centerfield.

Giants 13, Cubs 0

Bill Stahley, who pitched a no-hitter earlier this season, came back with a brilliant one-hit shutout as the surging Giants blanked the Cubs, 13-0. Bill struck out four during his masterpiece.

It was a tight game until the bottom of the fourth, as the Giants erupted for seven runs then and five more in the fifth.

Bill Stahley aided his own cause with a pair of hits. Fred Foote hammered a double and single, while Robbie Robinson singled.

Sparkling the Giants' airtight defense were second basemen Carmen Scarpa and Bernie Kavanagh, along with centerfielder Dave Robinson.

Cubs' catcher Paul Farnham dispelled any thoughts of a no-hitter early, lashing a solid first-inning single.

Farnham and third baseman Tom Walsh were defensive whizzes for the Cubs, while Doug Royal and Kevin Grundy shared the mound chores.

Giants 7, Cardinals 2

Robbie Robinson scattered six hits and whiffed five, pitching shutout ball after the first inning as the Giants rocked the Cards, 7-2.

The Cards had grabbed a 2-1 edge in the last of the first inning, but the Giants struck for a quartet of runs in the third to ice it.

Bob Meier, Eric Apgar and Robbie Robinson hammered key doubles for the winners, while Billy Eaton stroked a single. Meier also starred defensively at the keystone sack.

Kane Grecoe and Tim Grams ripped singles for the Cards. Jay DiForio was a standout in the field at shortstop, while the mound duties were shared by Tim Richards and Tim Grams.

Braves 7, Pirates 2

The Braves snapped a 2-2 tie in the top of the seventh inning, busting loose with five runs to hand the Pirates their third extra-inning defeat of the season, 7-2.

Joe Benson scored what proved to be the winning run on Jim Herman's RBI single. John Merola clouted a two-run triple in the seventh. Brian Staid went 3-for-4 and scored three runs, while John Taylor ripped a key single.

Brian Staid and Ken Smith split the Braves' hurling chores, allowing two hits apiece and combining for nine strikeouts.

The Pirates' Paul Bracken had a 2-for-3 night, while Joe Cahill spiked a double and Jim DiTroia singled. Mike Travis was a defensive stalwart at shortstop.

Jim DiTroia worked the first six innings on the hill for the losers, fanning nine and walking six. Dave Morton was the victim of the Braves' seventh-inning uprising.

Giants 3, Braves 2

The Giants received their second no-hitter of the season on the combined efforts of starter Dave Leitch and first-inning reliever Fred Foote, edging the Braves 3-2 in a rain-abbreviated five inning game.

The Braves struck for a pair of runs in the bottom of the first, using walks, errors and passed balls to do the damage. The Giants, however, rallied for one in the fourth and two more in the fifth stanza.

Bill Stahley clouted a triple for the Giants, while Robbie Robinson lashed a double and Bill Eaton had a timely single.

Dave Robinson was again a defensive star in centerfield, combining with Fred Foote on a perfect relay throw to the plate which nailed the potential tying run in the fourth.

The Braves' hurling was done by starter Brian Staid and relievers Kenny Smith and John Merola.

Will Dufresne was a defensive standout at first base for the losers.

Pirates 10, Braves 1

The Pirates continued in their spoiler's role to the end, knocking the Braves out of second place and a playoff berth with a season-ending 10-1 victory. The result left both clubs tied for third with 7-8 records.

Paul Bracken fired a two-hitter and fanned 13 batters, including the first eight he faced.

Bracken helped himself at the plate with 3-for-3, including a brace of doubles. Jim DiTroia lashed a double and single, while Mike Muldoon had a timely single for the Pirates.

The lone Braves' safeties were singles by brothers Billy and Pete Crabtree, Brian Staid and Pete Crabtree did the hurling for the losers.

The Pirates put the game away early, striking for four runs in the first inning and three more in the third.

White Sox 12, Twins 7

Jim Lacourse fired a one-hitter but still had to struggle somewhat, as the late-starting White Sox continued hot and beat the Twins, 12-7.

Dave Nardone led the offensive barrage with a two-run homer, his fourth circuit blast of the season.

Chris Carlson laced three hits and drove in three runs, while Jim Lacourse banged out a three-run triple.

The lone safety for the Twins was a fifth-inning single by Steve Rathbun.

White Sox 19, Indians 7

Jim Lacourse and Mike Ganem were the big noises here, as the White Sox drilled the Indians, 19-7.

Lacourse tossed a five-hitter to gain the mound win. At the plate he hammered four hits, including a two-run homer, and he picked up four ribbies altogether.

Ganem was a big help with a perfect 5-for-5 night.

QUIT SMOKING IN JUST FIVE DAYS!

Have you ever met a smoker who doesn't want to quit? It's unusual today to meet anyone who doesn't know the facts about smoking, and who isn't concerned about his own health.

You also know that to stop smoking is easier said than done - - and, the longer you smoke, the harder it is to quit.

Smoking clinics have been operating successfully on the West Coast for years. Our director of therapy has worked with hundreds of heavy smokers in such clinics. Now this service is available to you here in Massachusetts.

Our methods of aversion therapy have helped people quit smoking when other methods have failed. No drugs or hypnotism are involved. And you don't have to gain weight when you quit smoking. We have trained personnel who can help you with diet and nutrition.

If you really want to quit smoking or know someone who does, we can help. You have nothing to lose but a messy, unwanted habit. You have everything to gain.

Red Sox 14, Twins 5

The Red Sox moved within one victory of the title following this 14-5 triumph over the Twins.

The Twins vaulted to a quick 4-0 lead in the first, but the Red Sox wiped it out with an eight-run uprising and never trailed thereafter.

Mike Anderson hurled the distance for the win, scattering eight hits and striking out four.

Robbie Wilkins led the Sox.

Bill Walsh (Cubs) led the winning charge with four hits, including a triple and two doubles. Bert Grundy (Cubs) smashed two doubles and a pair of singles.

Hank Powell slugged two doubles and a triple, while Howie Zussman (Pirates) stroked three singles.

Paul Derby (Mets) gained the mound win, while catcher John Dilorio (Cards) and shortfielder Len Driscoll (Pirates) starred defensively.

The American Leaguers were led by Frank Monette (Red Sox) with three safeties, while Don Kramer (administrator) and Armand Carignan (Tigers) drilled two hits apiece.

Defensively the sparkplugs for the AL were leftfielder Ron Lindquist (White Sox) and shortfielder Dick Heidt (Yankees).

The name of the losing AL pitcher was not released to avoid embarrassment to all parties concerned.

All-Stars

Managers of all teams in both the American and National Leagues will be getting together to choose the 1974 All-Star teams very shortly.

The two 'Star squads from Andover will open play in the single-elimination International Little League Tournament early next month.

Andover begins at the District 14 level, two of the many thousands of teams who will be vying for the final eight berths in the Little League "World Series" to be held in Williamsport, Pa. in August.

Team rosters and tournament pairings will be listed in future editions of the TOWNSMAN.

barrage with 3-for-4, including a key three-run homer which was his third circuit clout of the season.

Mike Anderson helped himself with a brace of doubles and three RBIs, while Todd Zimmerman cracked a two-bagger and scored three runs.

Don Bliss contributed a bunt single, sacrifice fly and two stolen bases. Completing the victors' offense with timely singles were Mark Rogers, Ted Kelley, Mike Murray and Billy Hall.

Don Bliss starred defensively both at first base and in center field, which he played separately, while Robbie Wilkins looked good at shortstop for the Sox.

Mike Dion went 2-for-2 with a pair of singles for the Twins. Jim Murphy hammered a triple, Jeff Nicastro doubled and additional singles were stroked by Barry Bloom and Barry Goodman.

NL Managers "Romp"

A good time was had by all at the first annual Managers and Coaches Softball doubleheader at Recreation Park last weekend.

In the "key" tilt, the National Major League M&C slaughtered the American Major League M&C by an 11-8 score in eight innings.

Even a torrential 15-minute downpour failed to dampen the spirits of the rivals, who waited out the rain and then finished their game.

Rumor has it that the American League is lodging a protest over the final outcome, but no official action has been taken as yet.

Babe Ruth

brought home Lyons and boosted the cushion to a comfortable 13-0. The locals netted four runs in the third on a combination of walks, errors and a single by Lawler, who batted four times in the first three frames.

The final Andover marker came in the fifth when Lawler singled, Farrell walked and Coffey spanked an RBI single.

Retaliation

Prospect Hill retaliated in the fifth, using six walks and a clutch double by Jeff Denuncio for its eight-run uprising.

Nine players hit safely for Andover. Lawler had four bingles while Hubbell, Lyons, Coffey and Zwicker added two each. Solo safeties were by Farrell, Needham, Grams and Hayes.

Schedule

Andover returned to action earlier this week, after TOWNSMAN presstime, with games against South Lawrence West and South Lawrence East.

Next week the entire league takes its annual July 4 All-Star break.

Tag Days

The Andover Babe Ruth team did very well during its annual Tag Day collections on Sidewalk Bazaar Days, and everyone connected with the team wishes to thank all townspeople who contributed. All monies collected go towards helping pay for umpires and equipment.

Softball Game

The team staged a Father-Son softball game and cookout at the Recreation Park last weekend.

The Fathers spotted the Sons a quick 5-0 lead after two innings in the softball game, but then stormed back to earn a 6-5 victory.

Two-run homers by Rick Harrison, Thom Lawler, Sr. (a 300-foot blast well over the left-field fence) and Dan Grams, Sr. did the damage for the Dads.

Defensive stars for the winners were outfielders Scott Hubbell, Tim and Mark Grams, second baseman George Farrell and shortstop Len Driscoll.

The Sons banged out six hits, including doubles by John Lyons and Bob Zwicker and singles from Jeff Hubbell, Dave Farrell, Gary Needham and Steve Serley.

Defensive standouts for the Sons were Danny Grams (?) and Chuck Souter.

Lennie Driscoll had a no-hit shutout working for the Sons over the first three frames, but quickly "tired" and needed relief help from John Lyons.

Rick Harrison, with some fine defensive help and plenty of luck, hurled the win for the Fathers.

This weekend the team journeys north to Montreal for a Montreal Expos' game at Jarry Park.

This is it - the Summer Scene at the Children's Room. Most of the clubs begin the first week in July so join us then. Summer Reading Clubs meet on Tuesday (Grades 1-3) and Wednesday (Grades 4-6), July 2 and 3 respectively. This year's theme is a Treasure Hunt! Each child gets a treasure map. To advance from step to step on the map, read a book or do any of the projects listed in code on the back of the map. Every one who reads three or more books will be invited to a party at the end of the summer. Other details will be supplied at the first meeting of each group. If you want to join the club, but are unable to attend these meetings, talk to one of the librarians to make arrangements.

Pre-school children aged 3½ to 5 years (born in or before 1970) are invited to Drop In for stories, games, and songs on Wednesday mornings from 10 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. beginning July 3. Parents, please bring your library cards each time so the children can take home a book, puzzle or record until the next meeting.

First, second and third graders who enjoy the yarns of Paul Bunyan, Pecos Bill and others and who would like to hear more about these heroes will want to attend the meetings of the Tall Tales Troup which meets Monday evenings, July 8-29 at 7 p.m. Boys especially are invited to this club.

This is the final week for June's Secret Book of the Month Contest. Every month (June, July, August) the librarians will select a fairly well-known book. Each week a new and more revealing clue will be posted. Guess which book it is. At the end of the month, every child who guessed correctly will receive a certificate and the two children with the earliest correct guesses will be given a prize. The first clue for July's secret book will be posted on Monday, July 1.

Beachcombers, remember to keep your eyes open for a truly special treasure and bring it to the Children's Room later in the summer.

Of course these programs are only a beginning - information about more of them will be found in this spot throughout the summer. Have a good summer and be sure to come in and see us sometime.

Quieting Fears

Events in and around the school department these past few months might give the impression that public education in Andover is rapidly approaching a demise.

There have been, of course, some rather foreboding predictions regarding the future course of the town's school system, all such grave warning being placed at the feet of the new majority of the school committee.

Among the predictions has been a wholesale departure of the administrative staff. This, following the failure of the school committee to re-elect an assistant superintendent and refusal to approve a second superintendent post.

Other personnel dealings by the school committee have also fed the fires of pessimism about Andover's schools.

But, the school committee, after failing to reappoint the assistant superintendent and some subsequent discussion of how the position should be filled, finally advertised the availability of a number two spot in the Andover school system.

In the wake of the foreboding predictions, it is interesting to note that there are, as of early this week, 90 applications for the position.

Now there will be the usual question concerning the quality of the candidates, as well as the desire of a person to obtain an administrative position in a school system allegedly fraught with turmoil.

We would doubt that the applicants were not making themselves available to promotion with eyes closed.

Further, we do not feel the 90 applicants are all less than qualified to assume administrative responsibility, based on qualifications.

It all lends a little credence to the fact that rumors to the contrary, the general complete breakdown of the Andover school system is not really at hand.

A Hard Look

The selectmen this week have asked the town manager and his assistant to look into the proposed hike in the MBTA cost of providing the once a day train service to Boston.

What started out as $2,500 annual expenditure, now looms to be in the vicinity of $80,000 to provide train service to Boston.

We have been less than enthusiastic about any attempt to join hands with the MBTA.

Also, we can sympathize to an extent with selectmen and townspeople who are reluctant to close another commuting avenue to Boston.

Thus careful study of the options available to the town is necessary on the part of the manager and his assistant.

Gone forever, we assume are the days when the 7:11 a.m. steamed into Andover station to accommodate hundreds of daily commuters to Boston. Never to return, we are sure, are the regularly scheduled runs between here and Boston.

But, the MBTA which now operates the rail route to Boston, has a long history of producing very poor balance sheets at the end of the year.

The deficit-ridden transportation authority operates annually on the theory of the public will pay. Communities like North Reading and Wilmington annually pay substantial sums for MBTA service which is virtually non-existent in some cases. Buses, for instance come as far as North Reading and turn around without making passenger stops, yet each year the town must contribute for service.

Wilmington enjoys train service somewhat better than Andover's but still not equal to the sum provided by the taxpayers.

The $80,000 bill for service for the few Andover passengers who avail themselves of the once-a-day train service seems exorbitant, and worthy of considerable study by the administrators before committing Andover to that expense.

Truck Ban

Action of the selectmen this week in asking the state Department of Public Works to ban truck traffic on River street, seems a logical solution to a dangerous problem in the Ballardvale area.

We have noted the dangers of increased heavy truck traffic on such streets as Clark road, and Andover street.

There is a problem, still to be overcome, however, and that involves how well our neighbors will accept the Andover suggestion to the state authorities.

Approval of posting River street as prohibited to trucks in excess of two and one-half tons, means that such traffic will now have to seek access to Route 93 or other destinations via Wilmington streets.

The request by the selectmen should bring about two things, one being how neighborly our Wilmington friends are, and the other emphasize to the state the dire need for an access road to Route 93.

The latter point seems the most logical solution to the overall problem.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Good old New England weather. First it is unseasonably hot and humid, followed up by nice crisp, cold rainy weather typical of November but at the end of June.

Tuesday evening the warmest place in New England was, of all places, Bennington, Vt., with a reading of 72.

If the Red Sox finish first, and a continuance of their current brand of baseball could well lead to that lofty plateau, it will probably be like an alumni game in the playoffs and world series.

Nearly every club in both leagues has a member or two on their roster who either played for the varsity or in the Sox farm system at one time or another.

Many are doing quite well on foreign fields, such as Lynn McGlothen and Reggie Smith in St. Louis, Ken Brett and this week Jim Lonborg not only pitched his tenth win, but blasted a grand slam home run as well.

Despite the development of good ballplayers in the Sox Farm, the current Boston favorite is a discard. Several clubs gave up on Luis Tiant before the Sox took a gamble and won big a couple of years back.

New and old residents and visitors alike agree that one of the finest events in Andover is the annual Sidewalk Bazaar days festival in the downtown area.

This year was no exception.

Among the most consistent comment heard is that it is a good, old fashioned New England get-together and there is an air of friendliness and frivolity prevalent despite weather problems which occasionally arise.

Northeastern University's Center for Continuing Education will sponsor a workshop in "Understanding People for More Effective Selling" July 17.

The workshop is designed for businessmen interested in gaining a better understanding of people - specifically customers, and is aimed at developing a deeper awareness of the complexities involved in face-to-face relationships.

The workshop will stress customer personalities, assessing customer needs and motivations; customer defense mechanisms, including anticipating and overcoming customer objections; customer communications, examining the relationship of verbal and non-verbal communications to effective selling skills; and flexibility and creativity in meeting the needs of a wide variety of customers.

The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. at Henderson House, the university's conference center in Weston. The cost, including all books, instructional materials, lunch and coffee, is $95.00.

For further information or registration forms, call Bruce Barry, Center for Continuing Education.

Essex County residents who have emphysema, chronic bronchitis or asthma and members of their families are invited to a meeting at the Essex County Health Association office in Topsfield on Tuesday, July 9, at 7:30 p.m. to hear Albert M. Randall, A.R.I.T., an Evening Supervisor at Beverly Hospital, speak on Chest Therapy. Mr. Randall will discuss the objectives and methods of treatment and will relate some of his experiences in home care therapy.

The Association office is at 239 Newburyport Turnpike (New England Office Park), Topsfield, 1/10 mile south of the intersection of Routes 1 and 97.

This is another program in a series, sponsored by the Essex County Health Association, for the information of people with chronic respiratory disease, and also offers them the opportunity to socialize with others with similar health problems. There is no charge.

The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley today warned motorists to watch out for youngsters now that schools are closed for the summer.

June, July and August are dangerous months for youngsters said AAA, and stressed some areas where special caution is required of drivers:

Near school and public playgrounds, community and private swimming clubs, tennis courts and other recreational areas; public parks, and neighborhood movie theaters.

In urban residential areas where lack of space and recreational facilities can tempt youngsters to use streets for play.

In residential areas where corners, curves and driveways often are "blind."

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - June, 1899

Perley F. Gilbert is drawing the plans for Dr. Hulme's new residence on Main street. The house will probably be built this summer.

Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith and Miss Helen E. Bodwell attended the commencement exercises of the Bradford High School earlier this week.

A new vault for the storage of valuables, plans, documents and papers, is being constructed at the Town House. It is located in the offices of the board of public works which adjoins the selectmen's office and it will be used jointly by the two.

T.E. Rhodes new bake shop on East Chestnut street is just about ready for use. Mr. Rhodes has purchased a new oven, the largest Middleby, which will increase the facilities greatly. Also being built to the rear of the shop is a new stable to house the teams for delivery.

The American Woolen Company have removed their chemical laboratory from Carter's block at Central and Main streets to the Washington Mills in Lawrence. H.H. Hill who has been head chemist, will thus remove to the new location.

50 Years Ago - June, 1924

Rep. Charles E. Abbott gave the address and David R. Lawson, chairman of the school committee awarded diplomas to 66 graduates of the Stowe Junior High School.

Graduates of Lowell Normal School Wednesday from Andover included Miss Edna Lawrence, Miss Miriam C. Sweeney and Miss Mary E. Leary.

The bowling alleys and pool hall on Essex street owned by Roy E. Hardy and James Ross are undergoing alterations and an addition to provide more pool tables and alleys.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Petrie of Richardson Court left for New York Friday from where they will sail to Scotland for a visit and vacation.

Rep. Abbott has announced he will be a candidate for a third term for the ninth district seat which serves Andover, North Andover and Middleton.

25 Years Ago - June, 1949

Police Chief George A. Dane has turned over to the school committee $22.50, the sum collected from youths who broke windows in the John Dove school.

The selectmen, in talking with a capital budget study committee, suggest examination of a new town hall and relocating the fire station to Shawsheen or West Andover.

The selectmen and police chief agree to place "guest cards," to out of town motorists who violate the parking meters on Main street.

The staff at Pong's pond which opened Monday consists of Donald D. Dunn, supervisor; Patricia Black, Henry Curry, Jack Arabian and Joseph Ratyna. The Central street bridge is closed to traffic for four weeks to permit a new span to be placed.

10 Years Ago - June, 1964

The Andover Board of Trade honored Fred S. Tarbox and John Zenevitch for outstanding contribution to the town at the annual banquet.

Edward S. Moss of Andover, an aide and Pilot Richard Zimny of North Andover, were fatally injured in a plane crash in which Senator Edward M. Kennedy was critically injured last Friday night.

The Recreation Commission has voted to retain the services of a planner to design an overall program for the town.

Carol Heifetz has returned to her Andover home after a winter of study in schools in France.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The Andover college board test results were discussed a short time ago at a school committee meeting. At that time, data was presented showing that good correlation existed between parental income and expected college board performance. The higher the income, the higher the expected C.B. performance.

Correlation simply implies that a mathematical relationship exists between variables. The real challenge is to identify the underlying reasons why the mathematical relationship exists. Statisticians refer to this process as establishing causality. I would suggest that, in general, the many environmental factors associated with parental income are the primary causes for the correlation between parental income and expected C.B. scores. In any event, the C.B. people have taken great pains to publish statistical information comparing parental income with expected C.B. performance. In the 1972-1973 National Summary, 650,797 students responded. And it is a fact that there is good correlation between parental income and expected C.B. performance. To discharge this kind of statistical study as being irrelevant is not responsible behavior.

At the college level, where I teach, it is a well-known fact that the median is usually a better measure of central tendency than is the average when viewing C.B. scores for a Freshman Class. The fundamental reasons for this are that students with low C.B. scores are less likely to be admitted. Also, colleges have minimum acceptance standards. The net effect is one of chopping off a portion of the left-hand side of the statistical distribution. Or, in other words, creating a positively skewed statistical distribution. Had the U. Mass. average been used to compare against Andover's top students, Andover would have looked worse than it did.

Finally the results in the English Composition Achievement area should be a cause for serious concern. This is particularly alarming in light of the fact that the better students are the ones who tend to take the Achievement Tests and because we are once again comparing ourselves with the National Average rather than a goal more consistent with Andover's past tradition.

An elementary statistical calculation shows that the 1973 Andover English Composition Achievement Average is 6 standard errors of the mean below the National Average. Now, in informed circles, people ordinarily begin to express serious concern and start looking for problems when 2 standard errors are exceeded. By the time 3 standard errors have been exceeded, there is usually panic. I wonder if 6 standard errors is statistically significant enough to convince those who have, as of late, been suffering from the "Hyperkinetic Clapping Syndrome" at recent school committee meetings. Or, are they willing to wait for 10 standard errors? Possibly, these results along with other factors might help explain some of the recent actions of our present school committee. What do you think?

Lunch will be at a place of individual choice. A few places remain, so if you would like to accompany the group, stop by The Haven and place your reservation.

There will also be a bus trip to Rockport, July 23 with the bus leaving The Haven at 10 o'clock. Cost of transportation is $2. Reservations should be made at The Haven, 25 Barnard Street. Don't delay; do it today!

Swimming for Andover's senior citizens will continue to be available every Monday night at the Vocational High School at 6 P.M. Now that the school is not in session, entry to the building is through the door to the pool on the left side of the main building. Cool off in this lovely pool with your friends.

The Haven Associates are also sponsoring a booth at the 4th of July Celebration. Look for it!

'A Flea In Her Ear' At Salem, N.H.

The hilarious French bedroom farce "A Flea In Her Ear" by Georges Feydeau will be presented by the popular air-conditioned Town and Country Playhouse of Salem, N.H.

through Sunday, June 30. Starring a professional New York cast, the entire production will be directed and designed by David McNitt.

"La puce a l'oreille" as originally conceived by Georges Feydeau in 1907 has become a model for those that have succeeded the famed playwright. Having written nearly forty "vaudeville" or what is now commonly referred to as a farce, the author was the Neil Simon of his day. "A Flea In Her Ear" has been performed thousands of times throughout the world and also includes a motion picture. The hilarious antics take place in a "house of pleasure" but must be stated here that it is suitable for family entertainment. One must remember it was the theatre of 1907.

Appearing in this large and lavish production are such favorites as Neal Mandell, Edward French, Robert Arpin and Margaret Webb together with the new ensemble of Phyllis Levine, Daniel P. Turner, Richard Ginsberg and many others in this hilarious rendezvous of laughter.

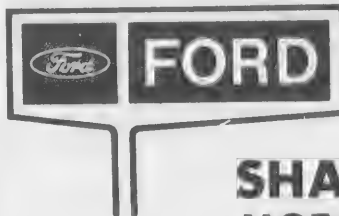

The air-conditioned Town and Country Playhouse is located in the new multi-million dollar Salem High School easily reached at exit 1 of interstate route 93 opposite Rockingham Park with plenty of free parking. Sunday at 7 p.m. with a Thursday 2 p.m. matinee. Telephone reservations can be made.

Sanctuary Day Camp Opportunities

The Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary Day Camp offers children the opportunity to meet all kinds of interesting and unusual creatures.

Spiders have eight legs and make beautiful homes; crabs with eight legs, too, like to walk sideways. Butterflies have six legs and more colors than the rainbow. Starfish with five legs dot the seashore like the stars in the sky.

Raccoons, chipmunks, buffalo, squirrels and foxes have four legs and beautiful fur coats. Birds with two legs whirl through the air and sing beautiful songs.

Clams have one big foot and hide in the mud.

No legs? Snakes that wind through the forest and fish that dart through the streams.

You can meet all these fascinating animals and more at the Ipswich River Day Camp.

We have field trips through the woods and fields and seashore, overnights, cookouts, planetarium shows, games and crafts - all in the beautiful Mass. Audubon sanctuaries.

There are three sessions this summer: Session I in Topsfield for kids entering third and fourth grade, from July 1-12; Session II in Wenham for kids entering fourth and fifth grade, July 15-26; and Session III in Wenham for kids entering sixth and seventh grade, July 29-Aug. 9.

If you're interested, call or write the Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary, Perkins Row, Topsfield 01983. Scholarship aid is available.

We always have a wonderful time discovering the outdoors - and we'd love to have your child join us.

Hope to see you this summer!

Rec. Baseball League Ready

By Rick Harrison

With over 75 competitors and four solid teams ready to go, the first Andover Recreation / Community Schools Summer Baseball League is a reality.

Following two weeks of informal practices, the loop opened play at the high school fields last Tuesday and will continue to operate twice weekly through August 8.

The four teams entered in the league, which is the brainchild of director and Andover High JV baseball Coach Ed Kelley, are the Andover Alumni, Andover High, the Andover Police team and the Independents.

The purpose of the league is to promote baseball for all ages, with the league encompassing every boy or man from the freshman level in school on up.

"There isn't any baseball in town after the first of July except for Babe Ruth (ages 13-15)," pointed out Kelley. "This will fill the vacuum created by the withdrawal and subsequent disbanding of the Greater Lawrence Police League by the Lawrence Police Department."

"Hopefully our league will give the young people of this town the opportunity to play ball rather than 'hang around' during the summer evenings," concluded Kelley.

The Andover Alumni team, as its name implies, is stocked with former standout players from the Golden Warriors.

Among them are Joe Conlon, Tom Barenboim, Jay Pennick, Bob Hughes, Bob Haugh, Dave Sweetser and 1974 graduates Craig Traub, Mark Sweetser and former All-Scholastic outfielder Bob Burrow.

Mike DiTroia has been added to this club, giving it some pitching stability.

Coach of the team is Jim Gillan, former AHS standout and now a physical education major at North Carolina University.

The Police team features a mixture of present and past Andover athletes.

Top performers include former varsity assistant Coach Steve Tisbert and his brother Joe, Mark Morreo who has also done some heavy slugging for the Chelmsford team of the Eastern Mass. League, John Brennan, Fred Arragg, Bob Gildea, player-coach Phil Cultrera, Jeff Towne, Kurt Schlott and Gerry Skinder.

Towne was Andover's All-Scholastic linebacker on last year's undefeated Super Bowl entrant in football, and Skinder hurled a number of fine games for this Spring's AHS varsity nine.

Player-Coach Cultrera was a fine catcher for four years at nearby Salem State College.

The Independents are just that, a good blend of players who with few exceptions are unaffiliated with organized teams.

Leading this crew will be Lazlo Kun, Ed Murphy, Ray Flaherty, Ken Szostik, Scott Lebowitz, Bob Autieri, Bob Jenkins and Dave Mosher.

Kun has done some excellent pitching for a number of teams in area leagues. Mosher was the top average batter (.344) and the No. 2 hurler on the AHS varsity this Spring, while Jenkins shows promise as a hurler and was a mainstay on the JV team as a sophomore.

Player-Coach of the team is Ray Flaherty, ironically enough the director of the Greater Lawrence Police League.

The Andover High team is composed of last Spring's highly successful JV unit (12-4-1), and the majority of its players will undoubtedly be elevated to the varsity come the 1975 season.

Heading the list are lefty pitchers Bob Hannon and Dan Billings, catcher - outfielders Jim Mower and Pete Aumais, second baseman Bill Breanna, Mark Botsch, Dave Mirisola, Gary Obermier, Kurt Reming and Steve Corcoran.

Co-coaching this club are Dick Aumais, formerly a standout hurler in Andover baseball and now the Public Safety Officer of the Andover Police Department, and Director Kelley.

Study Group Won't Be A 'Lynch Mob'

The Andover School System Study Group voted Monday night to become just what its new name says -- a study group -- not a "lynch mob."

Dr. Matthew Cushing, moderator, said the group intends to make a "ruthlessly impartial" study of the school situation and then release the findings to the community, letting "the facts speak for themselves."

Dr. Cushing also made a plea this week for people of the "traditional" persuasion to join the group, in order to make "a balanced drive toward the truth."

He said he hoped that no one would shy away out of fear of being overshadowed by more "modernistic" members of the group.

"We are not interested in people coming to tell their preconceived notions of what Andover education is," he went on, but rather to study and hopefully "even off" some of the extremes with a meeting of the minds.

He said the study groups will get going again the first week of September, and that deadline for their reports is Jan. 1. However, he said, reports will be released one by one before then as they are ready.

He said that any persons interested in participating in any of the groups -- curriculum, testing and evaluation, discipline, finance, goals, personnel policies, political action and division of responsibility -- could leave word by calling his office.

"We don't want to be known as a political action group," he went on. "We're not ready to talk to anyone."

However, he said, any of the individuals could take action independently of the group if they so chose.

Dr. Cushing also said that the group is asking for nominal, voluntary dues from those who can afford it, to provide a slush fund for study materials and other expenses. He said all expenditures will be approved by the steering committee.

week. Also, $3,000 for veterans services; $5,48 for patriotic celebrations; $69.01 employee benefits; $66.99 for the finance committee; $3,500 for sewer department to meet fuel adjustment charges at the pumping stations and $11,977 for sick leave benefits for the fire department.

The FinCom was pleased with the limited number of transfers requested by the departments during the past 18 months. The new budgetary process required the town to appropriate funds to last from Jan. 1, 1973 through June of this year. It was anticipated that considerable funds would be needed to meet costs, but there have been very few transfer requests, it was noted.

tique Bottle Club will also have an exhibit.

The 4-H Boots and Saddle club will present a horse show during the afternoon and there will be a mini-olympics meet during the afternoon.

Among the rides, refreshments and games along the midway will be an opportunity to go horseback riding.

The fireworks display will be even better than in previous years, the committee reports. All safeguards are being taken to prevent any accidents as a result of the display, with special fencing being installed at the playstead and additional security people hired for the occasion.

In addition to Chairman McLeod, the committee includes John D. Lewis, Gary Ralph, William Martin, John Obert, Robert McQuade and Francis P. Reilly.

In the evening there will be a gymnastic exhibition at the playstead beginning at 7 p.m.

At 7:30 the popular Clan McPherson band will perform, as will the Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps.

A barbecue chicken supper will be served for which tickets are available at Andover stores and banks. The supper will be from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

would be no problems, but three notes are now coming due for engineering work totalling some $150,000.

The manager explained that it is possible to extend the notes but it would be necessary to renegotiate the interest rate.

The town could request the treasurer to obtain permanent borrowing facility instead of tax anticipation notes.

The town manager reported that the public works director and town accountant report that there is $10,000 needed for bills on interest now being held and an additional $21,000 for contractual costs of the consulting engineers.

Austin requested that the borrowing be lifted to $200,000 level to meet these and additional costs should they arise.

The selectmen asked the manager to provide them with the costs of the West Andover sewer project to date, which involves engineering work.

They also said that the $180,000 incurred seemed to be sufficient in view of the status of the industrial development and the failure of Hewlett-Packard to "pull the trigger."

Chairman Greenberg said that a minimum cash outlay seemed sufficient at this time and that if more funds were needed and if the project began to move ahead, the selectmen could authorize additional borrowing at that time.

Selectman Alan F. French, checking on the amount appropriated for engineering expenses, was informed that this was part of the overall $2.5 million appropriated.

"What if the project never gets started?" French asked.

"Then we will pay the engineers on the estimated cost," the town manager replied.

While Hewlett-Packard may have every intention of continuing its plans to build in West Andover, the local concern is over the delay in making the commitment to the town.

There is reluctance to provide a trunk sewer line to the industrial area for Arkwright/Boston, owners of the industrial acreage there.

According to the town meeting vote, no funds for construction can be committed until H-P makes its firm commitment through a building permit.

The rising cost of construction, in relation to the funds available is of more than passing concern, in view of the need to return to town meeting for additional money, if necessary.
